yin restorative yoga: Learn basic yoga poses in a supportive atmosphere. Slower moving class with lots of verbal instruction. Appropriate for beginners or for those who would like to improve their yoga practice through careful attention to posture and form.

Pilates/barre fusion: This class involves the principles and movements of a traditional Pilates class while incorporating a blend of ballet-inspired elements. Barre Fusion often focuses on small, isometric movements delivering a full-body workout. Especially great for strengthening your core and toning your glutes and legs.

pilates matwork: Accomplish physical and mental conditioning through floor exercises performed with specific breathing patterns. Pilates will strengthen your major muscle groups, improve your alignment, and increase your flexibility.

power flow yoga: A faster moving yoga class designed to challenge those with some yoga experience. More advanced poses are demonstrated and less verbal instruction may be given, as poses may be linked together in a "flow". Come hydrated and prepared to sweat!

all levels yoga: A mind and body training program that will change the way you feel about your body forever. You'll stand straighter, feel stronger and become more flexible. Designed for all fitness levels, this class will reduce your stress and relieve your pain.

yoga foundations: A great place to begin your yoga practice or to keep refining your form and technique.

strength training

bodypump: Bodypump is the revolutionary new weight-training workout in a group fitness setting. You'll use barbells with adjustable weights, set to motivating music, and you'll burn up to 600 calories in an hour. WARNING: Bodypump is an exercise routine that gets results...fast!

buff 101: Resistance training class designed to tone, condition, and define major muscle groups using hand-weights, body-bars, and/or exer-tubes. Followed by a total body stretch.
